Dear Parents,

From Mr. Krafft:

Information concerning the last day of school as well as the swimming party on that day for the 6th graders will come home in the next week or so. This swimming party is exclusively for only the 6th graders, their teachers, and the parents who will be helping with the lunch, etc. No siblings, cousins, friends, etc. are invited.

For graduation, the 6th graders will be expected to dress in their best clothes but no one is expected to purchase an expensive formal dress or a tuxedo. This has been done in the past at times and it is totally not necessary.

We had a math quiz today and it has already been graded and returned to your child. Ask them to see it. Also, please keep in mind that a daily math assignment paper is sent home every day for you to view.

The social studies test on chapter 22 will be given on Wednesday. The study sheet for this chapter will be sent home on Tuesday evening. There are two or three students in the class who might need parental help in reviewing for this test.

from Mrs. Dibos:

We all enjoyed the play at the Smith Center, Robin Hood. It required a lot of imagination, since the only props for the 2 man show were boxes, lots of boxes! Thanks to all who drove us.

We will only have a vocab. test on Thursday this week, as well as a pretest on Wednesday and a spelling test on Friday. We will be finishing the video to the story, Tuck Everlasting, so there will not be a comprehension test this week.

The Mother Son movie night is this Saturday. It sounds like it will be a great time for everyone!
